Head withdraws withdrawal bill

State Rep. Fran Head (R-Bethel) has withdrawn a tentative legislative bill aimed at stopping future school withdrawal efforts.

She said recently that she had requested the bill at the urging of local citizens. The town of Newry, which pays $2.9 million of the $10.5 million SAD 44 budget, is currently in a process to potentially withdraw from SAD 44, which could result in a significant financial impact on the remaining SAD 44 towns.

In a statement released Tuesday, Head said:

"I would like to take this opportunity to share my position on the possibility of Newry residents voting to withdraw from SAD 44. I recognize that for many, this is a contentious situation, and look forward to continuing my listening tour in order to better understand the different sides of this issue."

"First and foremost, the residents of Newry should be taken seriously, and have every right to advocate for an improved education system. For the residents of Bethel, Woodstock and Greenwood, I am deeply concerned about a necessary tax increase should Newry withdraw from the school district.

"$2.9 million is a lot of money to offset. These cuts would be tremendously detrimental to the children of Bethel, Woodstock and Greenwood. By the same token, $2.9 million is more than enough for the concerns of Newry residents to be recognized and responded to."

"Now is not the time for a massive tax increase, which is why I am urging the residents of Newry to continue to be a part of SAD 44. There are too many senior citizens who have to decide between heating their homes and buying prescription medications. There are too many small business owners who are struggling, as well as young families who are finding it difficult to make ends meet. The rest of us in the district have a responsibility to take the Newry Withdrawal Committee seriously, and to listen to those closest to the is-

Telstar team teaches a lesson in 'heart'

BY ALISON ALOISIO

The Telstar High School Girls' Basketball Team may not have notched any official wins on the hardwood this season, but their coach, fans and even opposing teams see them as winners.

That's because the team led the way in perseverance and toughness by playing almost the whole season with only five players. And in some cases - if someone fouled out before the end of a game - they played with four.

Having no one on the bench made it difficult, especially as the games wore on and the girls tired.

Last week, for example, they faced Monmouth Academy, which brought 13 team members and could rotate them in and out.

Coach Brian Mills said the Rebels started the season with eight players, but dropped to five only three weeks into the season due to injuries and other factors.

The lineup that finished the season last week included senior Savannah Pelletier and juniors Becca Howard, Hayley Peterson, Blair Stevens and Naomi Carr.

"These five girls never once talked about quitting," said Mills. Basketball is a long season - 18 games, late practices, getting home at midnight from an away game."

Mills said he knew he could count on them.

"Not once did I feel that these kids were not going to show up to play. All the opposing coaches and fans were impressed with them playing the whole game, they were more impressed with how hard they played to the end. They never gave up."

"What's it take to keep playing with so few? Great kids, great parents and a lot of 'heart.' They had it all."

Pelletier also talked about the challenges for the squad, dubbed "the fab five" by its fans.

"Playing with five girls was not easy," she said. "Each game we struggled matchup-wise, but we never gave up. We played with our hearts all season and overcame every obstacle thrown at us."

"We are the fab five, and I will never forget playing with such an amazing, dedicated, hardworking group of

Newry board tags $10,000 for shuttle, but won't endorse it

BY ALISON ALOISIO

Newry selectmen Tuesday decided to add a separate article to the March 3 Town Meeting warrant for $10,000 for the Mt. Explorer bus service.

But they will make no recommendation on whether or not residents should approve it.

The figure is double what the town has typically approved in the past. The bus service, established in 2001 and operated through Western Maine Transportation Service, shuttles people back and forth between Bethel and Sunday River during ski season. Most of its stops are on the half hour during the hours it operates, according to its schedule.

The Mt. Explorer committee, which serves as a liaison with the community, requested more funding this year, citing a decrease in available state funds. Committee member Pat Roma said in a letter to selectmen,

"In the past, Newry has contributed $5,000 towards the operation. The committee is grateful for prior contributions and requests that amount as a minimum. As I have reported to the Selectmen, State funding sources have been reduced and, in light of that, the committee encourages the Selectmen to consider increasing their recommended contribution to $10,000 subject to approval at the Town Meeting. As a reminder, the benefits of this service are: Reduction of vehicles on the road especially during periods of high traffic to and from the ski area; Helps attract visitors to the area (a benefit to all business owners and their employees); Offers a safe and reliable transportation option for tourists and locals alike (daytime and nighttime)."

The letter prompted the Newry board to express concern at their meeting Tuesday.

Greenwood needs a new fire truck, quickly

BY ALISON ALOISIO

Greenwood selectmen are considering calling a special Town Meeting to authorize the purchase of a used pumper truck for the Fire Department.

Town Manager Kim Sparks said last week that the current 1982 truck failed its pumper test, and repairs are estimated at $12,000.

Fire Chief Al Curtis has researched online possible used trucks to purchase, she said, and the board will discuss them at its next meeting Feb. 17. Sparks said Curtis' preference is for a $21,000, 1998 truck for sale by the Bedford, N.H. Fire Department. If selectmen recommend that one, the proposed funding

MORTON WANTS TO SERVE AGAIN

To the Editor:
Please convey these sentiments to the people I serve. I wish to continue to represent the citizens of Newry as Selectman and I need your vote.

If I were to have a campaign slogan it would be, "If you don't stand for something you will fall for anything."

My record is a clear testimony as to whose interests I serve. I was born the first son and middle child of seven children on Sept. 13, 1952. My parents, Albert Brooks Morton Sr. and Eleanor Francis Cummings Morton resided in Newry.

I began my education at the Powers and Branch one room schoolhouses which instructed the p-8 Grades. I went on to attend Crescent Park, Gould Academy, Telstar High School (70) and attended the University of Maine at Augusta and Farmington.

Shortly after college I purchased the home I live in today on the Bear River side of town.

For a brief stint, as a young father, I lived the American dream, traveling the world, making the big bucks being the outsiders in other folks' home towns. I have raised two sons in Newry because I believe it is the best environment on earth for a young mind to flourish. I have been self-employed for most of my life in the building trades with my specialty in custom tile shower design and installation.

I grew up learning that if you had a concern it was your civic duty to bring it to the leaders of your community.

My interest and involvement have led me to the various duties I have performed in service to my community over the years.

I worked with many fine individuals on most comprehensive plans and updates. I worked diligently on many town boards, committees and special projects such as the bicentennial, solid waste, industrial wind ordinance, scenic byway (2) watershed surveys (2) and I was instrumental in the development of sound Bylaws for the Board of Selectman.

I volunteered for the committee that developed the Town of Newry Unified Development Review Ordinance with its numerous revisions. I served on the planning Board several different times retiring as its chair when the good citizens elected me as their Selectman in 2012. I currently serve as the Selectman representative on the Newry School Withdrawal Committee and Cemetery Committee, three-town solid waste and oxford county regional recycling groups. All of these activities are town related.

In my first weeks after being elected I promised the citizens that I would listen to their concerns.

I have kept that promise and moved many issues to the table for review and discussion and ultimately to a town wide vote.

The record shows an increase of over 200 percent in voter participation since my election in 2012 on local issues.

I have observed that the more people involved in an honest and open process the better the decision. I have confidence that if citizens are informed of the facts, with enough time to consider the implications of what is before them, good, solid decisions will prevail. My desire to serve has not been for power, economic advantage or to promote a special interest group or pet project.

I have only one special interest group and that is the citizens/taxpayers of the Town of Newry.

I have said the things in public that people have spoken to me in private. It's humbling to be your voice in these uncertain times.

I have been a vocal "Local" my whole life. Well, not yet!

Brooks Morton

RESPONSE TO NEWRY COMMITTEE

To the Editor:

I agree with Jim Sysko's comment in his letter to the editor last week that he would prefer not to engage in a "public war of words with others with whom we want to work productively."

However, the Newry Withdrawal Committee disclosed the major terms of their initial withdrawal proposal in two consecutive Citizen articles almost immediately after presenting it to the SAD 44 Newry Withdrawal Committee. If area residents are going to read Jim's comment that "We have made what we consider a reasonable and attractive proposal," then they should be able to read replies that disagree.

Jim correctly stated that the Newry Withdrawal Committee is only responsible to the citizens of Newry. I was elected by Woodstock voters to represent the best interests of all the students in SAD 44, including those from Newry.

Jim may not want to publicly discuss the existing tax policy in which a Newry citizen with a $150,000 primary residence currently pays less property tax than citizens in the other three towns with the same $150,000 primary residence. I would like one important question answered.

How will Newry's withdrawal, with the resulting huge financial impact to SAD 44, improve education for Newry and all the other area students?

HOW YOU PLAY THE GAME

To the Editor:

Remember the saying, "It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game that counts." With this in mind, the Telstar Varsity Basketball Girls are truly "Champions," regardless of any win/loss records.

Most schools have many girls of varied experience, allowing them to form both junior varsity and varsity teams; however, Telstar began the season with only nine, which was barely enough to create even one team... a varsity squad. Although continually "outnumbered" by opponents whose "benches" often seated more girls than Telstar's entire team, the Lady Rebels always rose to the challenge. Unfortunately, injuries began taking their toll however, until eventually the Telstar team sadly dwindled to a mere five.

Likely a bit apprehensive at first, the remaining five players maintained their never-give-up attitudes and forged ahead with the season, playing against teams who then sometimes outnumbered them three times over, which of course allowed those players to sub, providing everyone with much needed moments of rest. Yet there was no such luxury for the Lady Rebels... no room for rest, no room for injury, and of course no room for fouling out. Their stamina was extraordinary, and thankfully they managed to stay physically "sound" for the most part, but their determined enthusiasm sometimes prompted a "foul out" situation, then leaving them with only four players. But that didn't stop them either; they always continued regardless of the circumstances.

In one recent close game that found them reduced to four players, the opposing team still felt it necessary to run a full court press, double and triple teaming Telstar's four remaining players on the court. As frustrating as that must have felt, those girls so admirably maintained their composure and finished the game playing as they always did... with a tremendous amount of "heart."

Sometimes referred to as "The Fab Five," they not only elevated extreme admiration from their obvious fans, but also gained great respect from the opposing teams, coaches and athletic directors. They've been the ultimate example of being able to stay "in the moment," performing regardless of the challenging circumstances, remaining focused, and doing their best to make the most of each of those moments. Hopefully the fact that they didn't give up, keeping Telstar represented in the league amidst such trying times, will serve as an excellent example for those up and coming young ladies who like to play basketball. You're needed, girls!

Thanks to Kaylee Haas, Natasha Hart, Anna Montagna, and Kylie Martin for your time and great efforts while you were able to play. Thanks to Ashley Savage for your dedication and support in managing. Thanks to Coach Brian Mills for your guidance and encouragement in coaching. And finally, thanks so much to Blair Stevens, Naomi Carr, Becca Howard, Hayley Peterson and Savanna Pelletier for displaying such talent, skill, grace, class, determination and poise in seeing it through to the end... you've been absolutely amazing!

WOODSTOCK BICENTENNIAL PLAY

To The Editor:

Thank You to Amy Chapman for writing two excellent articles about Woodstock's history.

Our Town Manager, Vern Maxfield, did a superb job planning and organizing the celebration of the 200th anniversary of Woodstock's founding held Sat. Feb. 7. Everything went smoothly and people seemed to have a good time.

Jen Chase put in a lot of work preparing excellent food representing the 1800s. Diane Dupree organized a Historical Time Chart representing our 200 years. The chart may be seen at the Town Office. Important Historical or family dates may be added.

There is discussion about developing a play which would portray visitors from 1815 coming to Bryant Pond in 1915. During a second Act visitors from 1915 would pay a visit in 2015. Anyone interested in participating in developing this play should call Vern 665-2669 or Nancy at 665-2788. We need to know when you can meet and how to contact you.

SUPPORT TMS CAREER CHALLENGE

To the Editor:

Last Spring, the MELMAC committee at Telstar Middle School initiated the first annual Telstar Middle School Career Challenge. The purpose was to raise aspirations among students to pursue college and post-secondary education, and to begin thinking about and planning for life after high school before it arrives. Ten inspired students took part by interviewing adults engaged in various careers or researched careers of interest. These students presented their information to their peers and teachers, and were rewarded for their efforts with a day-long field trip to several local Bethel Area businesses.

The following establishments graciously opened their doors to our students, briefed them about the intricacies of their businesses, and in the case of Crossroads, provided the students with a delicious lunch too: Crossroads Diner, Bethel Animal Hospital, Maine Energy Systems, Bethel Early Learning Center, Key Bank, Sport Thoma, The Bethel Inn and the Good Food Store.

In the coming weeks, we will be kicking off The 2015 TMS Career Challenge. Don't be surprised if you get a call from a Telstar Middle School student interested in interviewing you about your career. We will also be contacting businesses during the next few months to plan our field trip in the Spring. If you are a local business who would be interested in hosting a small number of students and chaperones on a date to be determined in late May or early June, please contact Guidance Counselor Rich Curley at 207-824-2136 ext. 501.

From the Bethel Town Manager's Office

By Christine M. Landes

As always, it is my pleasure to provide this bi-weekly column for the citizens of Bethel.

The Public Works Department has been very busy trying to keep up with the recent snow storms. They are diligently working on the concerns we have been receiving at the office about certain intersections or areas. Please be patient. Although February is the shortest month, it always seems to be the longest in the winter. The holidays are over and people seem to be ready for Spring, so shoveling and cleaning snow makes everyone cranky and tired. On a positive note, has anyone noticed the days seem to be getting longer?

The Town Office is now selling discounted ski tickets to Mt. Abram. The one day lift ticket costs just $26.00. This is an amazing opportunity to enjoy skiing at our local mountain for a great price. The front office has the tickets immediately available for purchase.

The budget process is in full swing. Each department head has submitted proposed budgets. I will be reviewing each budget and meeting with them individually to detail the needs documented. On March 10 and 12, we will be having the annual Budget Committee/Selectmen meetings. These meetings are open to the public if anyone has any interest in attending.

The cutting project at the airport is progressing. As you will recall, this project will allow for a safe approach and take off area at the airport. The trees have been marked for either topping or cutting. Stantec and I are in the process of getting a bid package together for interested parties. There will be an informational meeting for interested bidders planned prior to the final deadline for bid submission. As I have stated before, we would like to have this project complete while the ground is still frozen to minimize damage not only to the land-owners property, but the roads the equipment will travel over.

As most of the users of the Waste Water Treatment Facility know, there was a change to the billing process in 2014. The Bethel Board of Selectmen are very aware that there are some concerns about the Code that addresses this process. On Feb. 23, 2015, at 7 pm, the Board has agreed to meet with concerned individuals and hear the suggestions they may present on how to correct and/or change the process. Please feel free to attend this meeting.

As a reminder, the Town Office will be closed Feb. 16 in observance of President's Day. Normal business hours will resume on Tuesday Feb. 17.

If there is anything I, or the employees of the town, can do for you please do not hesitate to contact us. We are here for you.

FLYING MOOSE THANKS

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the many volunteers who helped host this year's hugely successful Flying Moose Classic XC ski race sponsored by the Bethel Outing Club at the Gould Academy ski trails. This race, part of the New England Nordic Ski Association's Club series, attracted ski racers to Bethel from all over New England. We had a terrific turnout for the 10 km and 25 km races, as well as for a 3-km middle school race and a lollipop race. The day went smoothly- thanks to Gould Academy for donating the use of the field house for registration, the upper field for the stadium, and the trails at Pine Hill.

We could not have done it without the assistance of many wonderful volunteers including: Colin Reuter, Julia Reuter, Elliot List, Kate Rideout, Carlie Casey, Buzz Gamble, Linda Gamble, Mike Hoeh, Lorrie Hoeh, Martha Siegel, Suzanne Pierce, Gary Inman, Lesley Rowse, Kate Goldberg, Mac Davis, Vicki Fimiani, Brad Clarke, Kirk Siegel, and others who helped throughout the day. With a special thank you to Wade Kavanaugh and Jeremy Nellis for grooming and laying out the course and to Tracyn Thayer for coordinating the youth events.

day about the town's investment.

Chairman Wendy Hanscom wondered what the "sustainability" of the service would be in the future.

Selectman Brooks Morton said when he has seen the bus going back and forth this week, it appeared to "be empty most of the time."

Resident Tama Drown, who also attended the board meeting, said she had made similar observations, often seeing only a single rider.

Morton wondered if the area might be better served by a smaller, locally-owned private bus service that might operate on an "as-needed" basis.

Drown, however, said she and her husband had looked at an option to operate a van to shuttle people in connection with their business but did not find it feasible.

Contacted after the meeting, Roma provided the following information and statement:

"The [current] annual budget prepared by Western

BY ALISON ALOISIO

Newry selectmen Tuesday agreed to propose $300,000 in road improvements on the Sunday River Road at next month's Town Meeting.

The $300,000 is recommended to come from $150,000 raised in taxes and $150,000 taken from the Capital Improvement Account.

Another $75,000 is proposed to be taken from undesignated surplus to offset taxes.

The bulk of this year's roadwork is proposed to be improvements on a 1,200-foot stretch of the Sunday River Road near the Letter S Swimming Hole.

The road and a large culvert under it had been deteriorating, and at last year's Town Meeting residents approved up to $30,000 for engineering work in preparation for the reconstruction.

The town hired Joe Aloisio of JAGJA Inc. to do the engineering. He presented his design at a public hearing last fall. It called for replacing the gravel under the existing pavement, the culvert (which he said has gaps in it and was being crushed at both ends), and regrading an adjacent hill to an average grade of 9.9 percent. The steepest part of the hill is currently about 15 percent, he said then. A pullout along the hill would have to be eliminated because the road would be lowered eight feet there to achieve the grade.

Aloisio also said the plan was constrained by the presence at the top of the hill of the Nordic Knoll Road intersection. Some residents had expressed concern about lowering the Sunday River Road there to help improve the overall road grade because it would have made the Nordic Knoll entrance/exit steeper, possibly posing a danger for stopping there in the winter.

The road plan also called for an 18-foot travel way with two-foot wide shoulders, as well as an eight-foot-wide parking strip 200 feet long on the side of the road opposite the Sunday River. The area sees a lot of swimmer traffic in the summer.

The roadwork was expected to be put out to bid, if approved at this year's Town Meeting. Code Enforcement Officer Dave Bonney obtained a recent estimate of $229,000.

But since last fall, the town has also asked Bruce Manzer Inc. for an estimate to pave and improve a total of three miles of the road, including that stretch. Manzer provided an estimate of approximately $900,000 for paving, culvert repair and guardrails. The Letter S section estimate was $122,780, plus $13,000 for shoulders and guardrails and $7,000 for culvert repair. Manzer would provide all necessary engineering at no cost for several sections of the road, including Letter S, his letter to the town said.

At Tuesday's meeting Selectman Brooks Morton described Manzer's proposal for Letter S as a "scaled down project" and wondered if it might be more cost effective.

He said the added parking portion of the JAGJA proposal was not part of the town's original intent, but a result of the engineer's plan. Morton said the plan would also eliminate a parking/pullout area at the top of the hill.

He said it might be better to preserve the pullout, which he said serves as an "escape route" for trucks to get around a hump in the road, where tractor-trailers can get hung up. Manzer's plan proposes filling in the area with gravel to stabilize the hill and keep the escape route, he said.

Aloisio's grading plan at about 10 percent would leave the top part of the hill similar to what it is now, Morton said.

He acknowledged JAGJA had generally done what the town had requested for the plan. But, he said, "I don't think we should feel obligated to carry out a design just because we have it. Manzer's plan fixes the base. It's not just a patch."

The plan would also give the town "more bang for the buck," Morton said, with more money available for work on other parts of the road.

But Selectman Gary Wight said he thought a more thorough fix was needed at the Letter S, and that there had been concerns expressed about the grade, parking and culverts.

Chairman Wendy Hanscom also favored the JAGJA plan.

The vote was then taken, and Morton also voted for it, making the decision unanimous for the Town Meeting recommendation. The estimated $70,000 in remaining funds would go toward work on 1,700 feet of the girls. I love my team and it was worth it all."

(Note: Mills said that while this team has set an example for handling a difficult challenge, he hopes that future teams will have more players to work with. "We have 10 eighth graders coming off the middle school team," he said. "The numbers should get better.")

Maine Transportation Services anticipated income of $167,987 to offset their predicted expenses, which included a $24,000 contribution to reserves. Continued contribution to reserves is vital to ensuring sustainability for such things as replacement of vehicles when needed. Income from grants was budgeted at $78,617, leaving the balance ($89,370) to come from local contributions (businesses and towns).

"It is true that buses operate at times with few if any passengers as would be the case with pretty much any transportation service. On the other hand, during the period of 6:30 a.m. to 9 a.m., the utilization is stronger, as might be expected. The most busy times are on weekends and often after the work day as people move about to experience the 'off mountain' opportunities. Drivers maintain records to show, in detail, where and when people use the service. This information is used to adjust the services to balance needs versus available resources. I am pleased to see that the selectmen have stepped up the proposed contribution."

Asked about next year's budget, Roma said, "We have not yet developed next year's plan or budget."

Drug trafficking charges for Greenwood man

GREENWOOD-A Greenwood man faces aggravated felony drug trafficking charges after reportedly acting as a middle man for trafficking prescription drugs. Tony J. Merrill, 33, of Snowmaking Pond Lane, made an initial appearance in Oxford County Superior Court on a single count of aggravated trafficking in scheduled drugs. He did not enter a plea and is scheduled to appear in court again on May 5. The Class A charge, which was elevated because of the presence of weapons, carries a maximum prison sentence of 30 years. According to an affidavit by Chancey Libby of the Maine Drug Enforcement Agency, police arrested Merrill during a Feb. 6 raid at the home he shared with his girlfriend. There, agents seized medications Merrill did not have a prescription for, including the painkiller Vicodin, digital scales and several firearms, Chancey said. In an interview with Merrill, Chancey said the suspect admitted to "muddling" drugs, or matching prospective buyers with suppliers. Police said Merrill admitted to such a transaction of Xanax, used to treat anxiety disorders, from earlier that morning. Bail was set at $300 cash with a Maine Pretrial Services Contract or $10,000 surety. Bail conditions prohibit the use of drugs and alcohol and Merrill is subject to random searches and seizures. - C. Crosby/Sun Media

The town currently has $41,000 in its Fire Department Reserve Account, she said.

Town officials do not want to wait for the annual Town Meeting in May because the loss of the truck impacts fire protection, Sparks said.

The town has another pumper truck at the station in Greenwood City, she said. Neighboring town fire departments have been notified of the situation in order to better cover for Greenwood, said Sparks.

She said a special Town Meeting would likely take place in early to mid-March.

sues at hand.

"Earlier in the session, it was reported that I was exploring legislation to stop municipalities from withdrawing in the future. I chose not to move forward with this specific bill because in the end, I decided that local control is still an ideal worth striving for. Although I won't be limiting more municipalities from withdrawing, I cannot endorse this option."

"I ask that the School Board and administrators take a renewed initiative in being responsive to not just the families of Newry students, but all families regardless of the place of residence. There is a lot to be proud of at SAD 44, but there is still more work to be done. As always, I am eager to hear the concerns of my constituents, and welcome the discussions ahead."

"We have an obligation to provide the best education possible with the resources which are available. I believe in the enthusiasm of our teachers and staff to ensure this obligation is met, and welcome the suggestions of my constituents to chart a new path forward—with everyone at the table."

Bike Maine tour to stop two nights here

Bethel will host some 350 cyclists from all over the U.S. in September when the town serves as a stop on the Bike Maine tour.

Sponsored by the Bicycle Coalition of Maine, the annual seven-day tour from Sept. 12-19 will start in southern Maine and wind its way up the coast and then into the mountains.

Bethel is a unique stop on the tour because there will be a two-night layover instead of a single night.

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce will serve as the host community coordinator, according to BACC Executive Director Robin Zinchuk.

"I met Kim True, the Bike-Maine coordinator a few years ago at a State Conference and had a chance to share a bit about what our chamber does each year for our members and Bethel," said Zinchuk "When it came time, after last year's ride in September, to plan for this year's ride, Kim contacted me to see if Bethel would potentially be interested in being a host community."

Zinchuk said after reviewing the criteria and talking with others in Bethel, she expressed interest.

True then came to Bethel for a tour.

"She was impressed with our 'can do' attitude," said Zinchuk. "I had already talked to Gould about being the site of the tent village and they were enthusiastic, even though school will be in session."

All the food for the ride will be locally sourced, said Zinchuk. "I spoke with Meryl Kelly and Anna Sysko of the Local Food Connection and they are excited," she said.

The "bike advocate" will be Gabe Perkins and Mahoosuc Pathways.

"We were very excited to

Woodstock mulls buying MDOT building

BY ALISON ALOISIO

With PACE Ambulance considering upping its staffing hours in Woodstock and the Fire Department feeling the squeeze, selectmen are studying an offer from the Maine Department of Transportation to sell its building on Route 232 to the town.

The Highway Department currently shares the Fire Station with the WFD. If the MDOT building were to be purchased, the Highway Dept. would likely move into it, Town Manager Vern Maxfield said after last Tuesday's selectboard meeting. He said Road Foreman Randy Eastman "is on board with the concept."

Woodstock officials met prior to the meeting with

The MDOT building on Route 232 in Woodstock. A. Aloisio

MDOT representatives to discuss the proposal.

The four-bay Bridge Department building, located on 2.2 acres behind the old Pinhook Meeting House on Route 232, is 40 by 80 feet. The current space in the Fire Station occupied by the Highway Dept. is 45 by 55 feet.

The MDOT building has not been used for a decade, Maxfield said.

The appraised value is $125,000, he said. Options for purchase include paying full price; paying a lesser price and risking having to turn it back to the state if the town decided it no longer needed it; and doing a lease/purchase agreement with a payment period, possibly 5 to 10 years, with no interest or fees.

Maxfield also said that PACE Ambulance is interested in having an ambulance stationed at the Fire Station 24 hours a day. PACE currently keeps its ambulance at the station and generally staffs the station seven hours a day and around the clock during storms, he said.

Maxfield said the service wishes to increase staffing in Woodstock because it is a central location for its coverage area.

School Board decision not to negotiate formula clarified

BY AMY CHAPMAN

At Monday's School Board meeting, Woodstock Director Marcel Polak, Chair of the SAD 44 Newry Withdrawal Committee, summarized a letter he recently sent to Board members.

The letter provides further explanation of the committee's decision last month to recommend no action on establishing a four-town committee to study possible changes to the district's funding formula.

Directors had also unanimously approved a resolution from that committee stating: "It is the School Board's goal to keep Newry in the district. Newry's withdrawal would have a significant negative impact on the quality of education in MSAD 44."

At Monday's meeting, Polak reminded the board of how a funding formula committee would work. If the majority of members, at least seven out of 12, were able to agree on a change to the formula, he said, the issue would then go to the voters of the four towns.

"Then, if those voters agree, that funding formula could, technically, come into place. Except—and this is the 'except'—the Newry withdrawal vote continues, and if the Newry withdrawal vote is affirmative, it trumps—it overrules—that funding formula change."

When the committee discussed this with its attorneys, they were told that one other possible scenario existed, one which, at the time of a four-town vote on changing the formula, would place additional language only on the Newry ballot, asking voters to approve terminating the withdrawal effort in the event that the funding formula change was approved district-wide.

There are a number of possible outcomes, and coordinating the two processes would require agreement between Newry selectmen and the School Board regarding the language to be used on the ballot.

"It's complicated," Polak said. "It's never been done in Maine. And based on those circumstances, we recommended no action. If you folks think that there's a reason to do this, [after hearing] additional information, please reconsider."

He went on to point out that Dr. Mark Eastman, the educational consultant for the Newry Withdrawal Committee, had been quoted in last week's Bethel Citizen as saying that looking at alternatives other than withdrawal would probably have been a step best taken before going ahead with the withdrawal plan process.

Polak also reiterated a point from his letter to the editor (Bethel Citizen, Jan. 22, 2015) regarding the real estate taxes paid by primary homeowners in the district's four towns.

For a home valued at $150,000 in each town, he said, "A Newry resident pays $1,358. A Bethel resident pays $1,875. A Greenwood resident pays $1,850. A Woodstock resident pays $1,765."

"How will withdrawal serve to improve education for both Newry students and other district students?" Polak asked. "That's a very important, fundamental question."

Bethel Director Frank DelDuca said it was his understanding that the withdrawal of Newry would have to be approved by the state's Commissioner of Education.

"Would the state support a separation that is going to be detrimental to the district?" DelDuca asked.

He asked why the state would support withdrawal when the evidence shows that resident taxpayers in Newry pay a lower mil rate than those in other district towns.

Andover Director Tim Akers said there are more than 20 steps towns must take in order to withdraw from a district, and as long as the process is followed, and the town and district come to an agreement regarding withdrawal, the state must approve it.

"By law, Newry has a right to pull out if they want to," Akers said. "The state doesn't decide if this will be good or bad; they have to go with the law."

SAD 44 Superintendent David Murphy said he expected more discussion about the withdrawal issue at future School Board meetings.

Other business

Murphy announced the resignation of Cindy Savage, TMS Special Education teacher. He said Savage will remain in her position until a suitable replacement can be found.

Resignations have also been received from maintenance department employee Ryan Laverdiere and Charles Sastamoine, a district bus driver.

Suzanne Pierce has been appointed as the CPS cross-country ski coach. Jason Ross is the district's new lead bus mechanic.

Murphy said the district had received a request from the Greenwood Spartans youth football program to use the Telstar name for its program.

He said the district's attorney did not see a problem with the use of the name, provided the organization includes a disclaimer in any promotions, noting that they are not directly affiliated with SAD 44.

"The kids look up to the Telstar team, and their leaders felt that this would be kind of a logical step," Murphy said.

"Maybe they could call themselves the Telstar Satellites," suggested Board Chair Lainey Cross.

The Way I See It

BY SHARON BOUCHARD

The weather outside is frightful... day after day. Enough already!!!

I know the ski areas are happy and I'm happy for them; I'm just not very happy for myself. Yes, I live in Maine; it's winter, and snow happens during winters in Maine.

However, I'm used to normal snowfalls; 2 to 4 inches or 4 to 8 inches not 1 to 2 feet per storm. And in normal winters in Maine there is usually some reprieve between storms, not 1 to 2 feet every other day!

And to add insult to injury, the darn temperatures are not normal either. I know winter in Maine one should expect some cold weather and I do. I totally anticipate some single digit temperatures. I even expect a few below zero temperatures, but not day after day. We're darn lucky these days if the mercury pushes up over the teens.

Now another snow storm is predicted followed by an arctic blast of cold air. What on earth have we been having if it isn't a blast of cold arctic air?

I was complaining about his abnormal winter to someone I bumped into at a local store. I went to school with this person so we are about the same age. I went on and on about the snow and the cold, pretty much like I'm doing now and he reminded me that when we were kids we had some pretty snowy winters and even some 20 to 30 below zero days. "Don't you remember that some years the snow banks were so high on the school walkway that we felt like midgets?" he asked.

I did sort of remember some pretty high snow banks, but we were also little kids and everything bigger than us seemed pretty high.

That did get me to thinking though and I started to remember some pretty bad winters. I remembered lying in bed in the morning and hearing the fire whistle blow the "no school" announcement. That was one of the greatest sounds to my young ears and I do remember some winters when that fire whistle blew a lot.

When I was 12 or 13 I could work for the town on "no school" days shoveling out the parking meters that used to exist on Main Street. I think that was the only time I liked snow because I not only didn't have to go to school, but I could make some money because of it too.

I also remember one year when a blizzard lasted three or four days and the only vehicles on Main Street were snowmobiles. In some areas the snow drifts were so bad that the town had to dynamite them before the snow plows could move the snow at all. I know that sounds a bit far-fetched, but it really did happen.

Once I got rolling down childhood winter memory lane I recalled the red antenna balls. You could get them at gas stations and various stores to put on the end of your car's radio antenna. This allowed fellow drivers approaching intersections with high snow banks to see each other or at least see their red balls. I haven't seen any of those in years.

Just maybe the winters of my younger years were as bad as this one or just maybe it's all false memory put there by an old classmate.

All I really know for sure is that right now it's in the low teens, the wind is blowing and as I look out the window I see that it is snowing again. It snowed yesterday and a bit the day before that and we are supposed to get some more in the next couple of days.

I really don't care what happened with winter in the past I only care about right now. I'm sure there are some people who say let it snow, let it snow, but the way I see it that just isn't normal.

The cost of OUI

The Oxford County Sheriff's Office was awarded a $10,000 grant by the Maine Bureau of Highway Safety as part of the 2015 "Drive Sober, Maine!" High Visibility Impaired Driving Enforcement Program.

This program will enable the Sheriff's Office to have 2 to 8 extra patrol details out every month from April 2015 until September 2015. These saturation patrols, in conjunction with organized roadblocks, will enable the Sheriff's Office to dedicate specific Deputies for patrolling problem areas.

The goal is to identify and remove impaired drivers from our highways as well as serving as a deterrent to other drivers who are contemplating operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

The objective of the Sheriff's Office is to educate the public on the dangers of impaired driving and reduce alcohol and drug related crashes and injuries on our rural highways.

Costs associated with Operating a Motor Vehicle Under the Influence - (Some information was obtained from the Maine BHS website):

Drinking and Driving is Expensive! These are some estimated costs you may incur if you choose to drink and drive: Towing Charges $150; Bail Bond $60; Lawyer $2,000; Fine $500; Alcohol Education Course + $350; 3-Year Insurance Surcharge $4,000; Loss of Work Time $300; Total: $6,980.

Selectmen also expect to include an article asking if voters are interested in securing a bond for $750,000 for the following year to pave and improve the Sunday River Road from the Monkey Brook Road intersection to the end of the pavement.

The board will finalize the Town Meeting warrant at its next meeting, on Tuesday at 5 p.m. Following at 6 p.m. is a public hearing on new parking and road entrance ordinances and proposed changes to the Unified Development Review Ordinance (fire suppression and Planning Board).

Bethel

By Nancy Brown

The Bicycle Coalition of Maine announced last week that Bethel will be one of the host communities for the 2015 BikeMaine ride. The 350-mile ride, which takes place Sept. 12-19, is open to 350 bicyclists. The ride begins in southern Maine near the beaches and then comes north to the mountains. Other host communities will be Kittery, Old Orchard Beach, Bridgton, Sweden and Kennebunk. The first BikeMaine ride was held in 2012. The event is organized by the Bicycle Coalition of Maine to promote Maine as a bicyclists' destination. The organizers estimate that last year's event had a direct economic impact in Maine of $395,000. That's good news for Bethel and surrounding towns. The cyclists are scheduled for two days in Bethel. On Sept. 15 the cyclists ride from Bridgton to Bethel. Sept. 16 is a rest day in Bethel.

For the past few months I've been tracking the gasoline prices, which finally dipped below $2 a gallon here for a few days last month. Unfortunately, gas prices have shot up 13 cents a gallon in the past two weeks, ending that consistent drop. The so-called experts predict that prices will probably go higher. It's a good time for all of us to get our bicycles out and start training.

As I write this on Sunday night, we are in the middle of a two-day snow storm that is expected to last until Tuesday morning, leaving perhaps another foot of snow here in the Bethel area. That probably means lost school days and work days for some of us. When I miss work because of snow, I have to use vacation time. So I am now treating my snow days as vacation days. Of course, there is work that has to get done first; clearing paths, raking the roof, and shoveling out heater vents. But after the work is done, consider having fun. Take out the snowmobile, break a new snowshoe trail, or go cross country skiing. Last winter the conditions for snowshoeing were terrible, so I have decided to enjoy this year's abundance of snow.

Saturday is Valentine's Day. There are lots of ways to celebrate. Locally, there are two free events that I know about. If you want to celebrate outdoors you can participate in the Great Maine Outdoor Weekend by joining the "Take Your Sweetheart into the Woods" snowshoe hike sponsored by the Mahosuc Land Trust and Western Mountains Senior College on Saturday, Feb. 14. Meet at the Land Trust office on Route 2 at 9:30 a.m. to carpool to Akers Ski Barn in Andover. Lunch will be served at the barn after the hike. However, if outdoor activity is not your cup of tea, you can celebrate the day by attending the annual Valentine's Day Tea at the Bethel United Methodist Church on Main Street from 1 to 3 p.m. There will be music, refreshments, and, of course, tea.

If you have news to share, please e-mail me at brownnancy1950@gmail.com, or call me at 824-2483.

This week I feel like I am stuck in a time warp... it is snowing again or, wait, still? The word out and around is that everyone stays in as much as possible. Oh, and not to forget, clearing their dooryards aka driveways.

Though I did not get to talk to her, I do know that Bettyann Hastings celebrated a birthday on Feb. 8. Happy Birthday to you, Bettyann, from the neighborhood.

It is time to the answer to the Trivia. It was Leon Gorman, grandson of the founder of L.L.Bean, who said, "He was born in Bethel all right, Eva Bean said so!" You can find more details on page 189, "East Bethel Road." To me, this raises a new question and it will be the new Trivia question next week. The answer cannot be found in any books or newspapers... or at least I have never found a reference to it. It seems to be just word of mouth. As always, remember to call me at 507-1008 or e-mail heinrichcracker@gmail.com. Till next week.

The new town tax maps are ready for the public to view at a hearing on Saturday, Feb. 21 at 9 a.m. at the Town Hall. The committee along with the Selectmen and Sebago Techniques tried to resolve all the questionable lot sizes through research at the Registry of Deeds and by speaking with land owners when possible. Knowing some errors may still exist they seek the input from residents to get the maps corrected and fully up to date.

The filing date for those seeking office in the March 24 election has passed and the candidates are as follows: Selectman: Dinah Cutting, Leo Camire, Jane Rich and incumbent Judy Tabb. Those seeking to be our next Road Commissioner due to the retirement of long-term Commissioner Marshall Meisner are: David Dolloff, Mark Farrington and Darryl Wells.

Rob Dixon is the sole candidate for Fire Chief as is Melinda Averill for the position of Town Clerk-Tax Collector. Linda Presby is seeking election to the one-year term on our new school board while Paula Lee has opted for the two-year term and Albert (Pete) Coolidge is a candidate for the three-year term. Residents are reminded that the Town Office will be closed on Monday, Feb. 16 in honor of the Presidents Day holiday.

My apologies to the Snow Valley Sno-Goers for crediting the Wind Towers Ride to the Roxbury Club. I did not have any sponsor information. Any way the Sno-Goers will be hosting that ride this Sunday, Feb. 15. Riders will begin arriving at 8 a.m. at the clubhouse, located off Route 5 in Andover and the ride will leave the club house at 10 a.m. A luncheon of hot-dogs and chili will be served at the clubhouse following the ride. The cost for ride and lunch will be $10 per person, $8 for club members and advance registration. Children under 10 will be free. It should be a great ride as all the snow over the last two weeks along with grooming by the club have much improved the trails. If you wish to pre-register contact Dick Merrill at 892-3481.

Those of you not into snowmobiling might want to attend the Larry Mercier Memorial Ice Fishing Derby on Roxbury Pond from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday Feb. 14. There are prizes in several fish species categories including Trout, Perch, Pickerel and Bass as well as the "jackpot" fish which is tagged and worth $2,000 to the lucky angler. Entry fee is $10 and the Lions Club Lunch Wagon staffed by the Mexico Explorers will have breakfast items as well as the usual lunch fare.

The Andover Food Pantry continues to be open from 9 to 10 a.m. on Tuesday mornings, except when school is canceled because of bad weather. Food deliveries from the Good Shepherd arrive on the first and third Monday. As always volunteers are appreciated to unload and stock shelves or to aid clients on Tuesday.

For those of you interested in the house project. Things are going great and Jim Coolidge and his crew are ahead of schedule. I want to thank all the people who have done so many things to help keep the site plowed. Those who have seen the house say it's just perfect for me. When it is finished and I'm moved in, I'll have an open house so all of you can satisfy your curiosity.

At 2:22 p.m. Deputy Andy Whitney received a report of someone operating a vehicle in the Bethel area with a revoked license. The vehicle owner was contacted and warned about allowing such use of the vehicle.

Saturday, Feb. 7

At 3:42 a.m. Deputy Steve Witham responded to Newry for a report of a vehicle off the road and both parties apparently intoxicated. On arrival those involved were uncooperative. The vehicle was towed and a hold placed on it until the operator could be identified.

At 6:47 a.m. Deputy Dave Hodgson responded to a single vehicle accident on Martin Lane in Bethel.

At 1:06 p.m. a caller reported a camp on East Twitchell Pond Road in Greenwood had been broken into. Deputy Chris Davis responded and found several parts of the structure were damaged, as well as the contents inside.

Monday, Feb. 9

At 1:01 p.m. Deputy Andy Whitney responded to the intersection of Route 26 and Parkway in Bethel for a property damage accident.

the Maine Veterans Home in South Paris. He would like to have cards to cheer him. The address is 477 High Street.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School at 9:15, Morning Worship at 10:30, Evening Service at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening at 6:30 is Mid-Week Service, Bloom for girls 13 to 18 and Foundations for guys 15 and up. The teens are still trying to earn money for plane tickets to summer camp in Florida. They are still collecting bottles and cans. Have an outgrowth children's coat? The Baptist Church is a collection point.

Franklin Grange was cancelled because of the weather. Next meeting is in March. Rodney Jordan will speak at the Woodstock Historical Society meeting on Feb. 14 at the Woodstock Town Office Community Room at 6 p.m. He will talk about Woodstock in the 1930s and 1940s when he was growing up in town. All are welcome to attend.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens meeting for February was cancelled. The March meeting will be held at Ledgeview, weather permitting.

Gilead

By Lin Chapman

It seems to snow just about every other day. I am tired of snow! This past week has brought good news and bad news. Most of which I cannot write about in my column. I think that old expression about a snowball not having a chance in "you know where" might apply to some of the bad news.

My brother, Steve McLain, was busy this past weekend getting a path cleared out to his back door. This needed to be done before more snow fell.

Joe McLain's visit in Maine gave him a chance to visit with his family and see a few of his friends that are still in the area. Steve and Lise McLain went out to lunch at the Brew Pub one day with him and they all had dinner at Brad and Carole's while he was here.

Steve, Brad and Joe met for lunch at the pizza place across from the SAD 44 maintenance garage. Joe left for home last Thursday. He arrived in a snowstorm and left in one. It was great to see him and hear what he has been up to in Montana.

Last Wednesday, Hugh and I had to go to South Paris and do some errands. While we were there, we had a very nice visit with Sheriff Wayne Gallant. We had a very lucrative and informative discussion.

As always, the usual birds are busy at the feeders. They stock up before and during the storms, so have been here almost constantly. Last Monday we noticed a Snow Bunting at the feeders. He stayed around for a while and then moved on to someone else's feeder, I suppose.

Mary Tyler went to her grange meeting last Thursday night in Shelburne, N.H. They were having an open meeting to try to attract some new members. They had six people who showed up and joined. They would still like to get a few more.

Condolences go out to the family of Albert 'Joe' Gaudreau, Sr. Joe was a familiar face around Bethel and Gilead as he worked for Brooks Bros. in Bethel.

Got any news? Call 836-2987 or e-mail chapman@hotmail.com.

RSU10 Meeting Reminder
Next Tuesday

Residents of Hanover received a notice in the mail last week from the Hanover Select Board inviting them to attend an informational meeting to discuss the Town's participation in Regional School Unit 10 and its impact on our taxes. The meeting will be held next Tuesday, Feb. 17, 2015 at 6 p.m. at the Town Office. All citizens are encouraged to participate. This meeting will be preceded by the regular monthly Select Board meeting at 5 p.m. that same evening.

Hanover's contribution to the RSU10 budget has increased significantly and will continue to increase for an additional two years. This meeting is your opportunity to learn more about how withdrawal may impact our town and will provide an open forum where you may share your opinion and feedback on the subject. The Western Foothills RSU10 includes the towns of Buckfield, Byron, Canton, Carthage, Dixfield, Hanover, Hartford, Mexico, Roxbury, Rumford and Sumner. If any change is to occur, it would require that a group of individuals, other than the members of the Select Board, come forward to gather information and prepare the required petitions and budgets for consideration by the Town.

The deadline to license dogs was Jan. 31. All unlicensed dogs will be reported to the Animal Control Office, Ozzie Hart, and owners will be assessed a late fee.

Victoria and Cory had a blast last weekend celebrating a friend's birthday at the Mt. Abram Tubing Park. Peals of laughter could be heard far and wide! The Tubing Park is open Friday through Sunday and every day during the upcoming school vacation week. Bring your family and friends for a day of fun. Tickets are $15 a day.

Hanover sends well wishes to Clem and Wilma. You are in our thoughts and prayers every day.

Thank you, snow dancers! Did you dance the night away? Skiers, sledheads and winter woods hikers are forever grateful! Gotta love the snow!

Please e-mail your news, comments and questions to HanoverMENews@gmail.com.

Locke's Mills

By Betsey Foster

Greenwood Fire Chief Al

Curtis, Jr., recently informed the Selectmen that fire engine No. 2 failed the annual pump test. He estimated the repair to be at least $10,000. The Selectmen authorized Curtis to begin looking for a used fire engine. They also authorized taking funds for this from the reserve account. There is currently $41,000 in this account. Since that meeting, Curtis has looked at a fire engine in New Hampshire for $25,000.

The Selectmen again met in executive session regarding a personnel issue within the fire department. Chief Curtis provided them with additional information.

Two drug-related arrests were made in Greenwood last weekend. One was at a Rowe Hill location, the other was on Howe Hill Road.

The town office recently received a request from a resident asking our road crew to push back the snowbanks at her residence. Sparks stated that the Town does not lower snowbanks on private property or private driveways. The road crew only does such work at intersections where the height of the snowbanks blocks view of oncoming traffic.

Speaking of the road crew - thank you for working 70-hour weeks the last few weeks to keep our roads plowed. And oftentimes doing that plowing by dark of night. You are appreciated.

Town Manager Sparks said that at this moment the plowing budget is solid. The problem is that we are running out of places to put the snow.

Sympathy to Jane and Jim Chandler. Jane's mother, Jean Hersey, died last weekend.

There is no vaccine for cabin fever. That is unfortunate because there is quite an epidemic making the rounds now. Cabin fever is a claustrophobic reaction to being shut in for an extended period of time. Symptoms are extreme irritability, a distrust of anyone you are with, and restlessness. The treatment is to get outside and move around. Alternative treatment is May.

You can also get out of the house by heading up to open mic night at Mt. Abram, Thursdays, 6 p.m., at the main lodge.

After several weeks of speculating about the populations of white-breasted nuthatches, I may have some insight. While some of us have not had any at their feeders, others have had the usual numbers. A week or so ago, I moved one of my small bird feeders to the other side of the house away from the main feeders. In no time numerous small birds began arriving at that feeder. Chickadees, titmice, juncos, red-breasted nuthatches, and, lo and behold, several white-breasted nuthatches. This new feeder is far away from the main ones used by the large flock of blue jays, the cardinals and the dozen or more woodpeckers. All those birds are relatively aggressive and may have intimidated the smaller birds. Now they all have their own feeding areas, and I am seeing white-breasted nuthatches again. Ah, yes, there is peace in bird world.

This week's sign of change to come: A bluebird was spotted in Bowdoinham this week by Kim Sparks' sister. Please send news to staichi6@gmail.com.

Friday 8:45 a.m.

Brrrr, another bitter cold day, it was minus 8 degrees here this morning. The sun is shining which helps to warm up the house.

Condolences are going out to the families of Grace Yates, Edith LaFrance, Carolyn J. Witter, Albert A. Gaudreau, Sr., and Geraldine Curtis Smith. Thoughts and our many prayers for each family member.

The Down East Country Music Association will hold a Country Valentines Show and Dance on Sunday, Feb. 15 at the American Legion Post 197 (300 Conant Street) in Westbrook. Doors will open at 11:30 and the show starts at 12:30. $5 donation at the door. There will be food on sale, 50/50 drawing and raffles. The entertainment will be provided by The Tennessee Bound Award Winners of 2014. FMI: Jackie (793-8884).

Celebrating February birthdays are Virginia Lulneau, Keith Hadley, Melody Hadley, Zachery Wilday, James Mason III and Joanne Appleby.

Anniversary wishes are going out to Lyn and Paul Cary, Barbara and Elwood Yeaton, Lolalee and Yogi Dillingham and Martha and Glendon Hadley.

The Civil War in film tonight

On Thursday, Feb. 12, Bowdoin College Professor Patrick Rael will present a free program on how the Civil War has been portrayed in film over the past century at Bingham Hall auditorium, Gould Academy, starting at 6:30 p.m. This event is part of the "Local & Legendary: Maine in the Civil War" project, a collaboration between Gould Academy, the Bethel Historical Society and the Bethel Library Association. The project, which runs through May, is bringing local Civil War history to life thanks to a $2,000 grant awarded by the Maine Historical Society (MHS) and Maine Humanities Council (MHC) and funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The program aims to bring Maine libraries and educational and historical organizations together to explore local Civil War history and engage their communities. Bethel is one of five communities in Maine to receive the grant in the second and final round of project awards.

Patrick Rael is a specialist in African-American history (1995 Ph.D. in American History, University of California, Berkeley). He is the author of numerous essays and books, including Black Identity and Black Protest in the Antebellum North (North Carolina, 2002), which earned Honorable Mention for the Frederick Douglass Prize from the Gilder Lehrman Center for the Study of Slavery, Resistance, and Abolition. He is also the editor of African-American Activism before the Civil War: The Freedom Struggle in the Antebellum North (Routledge, 2008), and co-editor of Pamphlets of Protest: An Anthology of Early African-American Protest Literature (Routledge, 2001). His most recent book, Eighty-Eight Years: The Long Death of Slavery in the United States, 1777-1865 (University of Georgia Press, forthcoming Summer 2015), explores the Atlantic history of slavery to understand the exceptionally long period of time it took to end chattel bondage in America.

He is a co-editor for the series "Race in the Atlantic World, 1700-1900" by the University of Georgia Press, and a Distinguished Lecturer for the Organization of American Historians.

Prof. Rael also has a strong interest in history education. He has explored the uses of technology in teaching history through his online simulation of the fugitive slave experience, and a long collaboration with Bowdoin's Information Technology Division to create historical maps using GIS. His online writing guides have assisted student writers for 15 years. He has written extensively about teaching, has contributed to the development of African-American history curricula, and has for over a decade led seminars and workshops on teaching American history in primary and secondary schools (notably, several of the Maine Humanities Council's Teaching American History workshops).

Waterford

By Rockie Graham

And the snow kept coming down. I do not remember so frequently in such large amounts. Usually we have at least a week between storms, but not this time. Everything seems to get cancelled every other day. But we have no control over that and it is February in Maine, so I shouldn't complain. Like most people, I always seem to complain about the weather. In any case, I get where I need to go and do what I must do, so...

Mountain Poets was cancelled until March due to the storm this past Sunday. That means in March we have to plan for April's annual Too Cold for the Porch celebration in honor of National Poetry Month. We also need to write more new snow poems. Poets you know what your task is.

Friend Kathleen and I visited both farmers' markets in Norway this past weekend. That was interesting as they each had different vendors. We bought meat that was locally raised, goat milk cheese, vegetables that were grown recently and locally, it was much nicer and more fun than shopping at Hannaford. We got to see old friends and make new ones. I think we will do it again if we can come up with the money. To that end, this Saturday, Feb. 14, in addition to Valentine's Day - don't forget your sweethearts - at Old Squire's Farm Market, there will be a presentation on "Healing Naturally with Herbs" presented by Suzanne Dunham who also makes gluten free bread and pastries. Her presentation begins at 11:30 a.m. Next week, Feb. 21, at Squires Market there will be a presentation on running a sustainable dairy. Great adventures.

Because my computer died and David had to fix it, everything at my computer area is torn apart and now I have to rework it and find a new place to store stuff. I can no longer use the floor or anything low down as piggy will eat it and then I will have to replace it. She has already attacked my crocheting and pulled out what little I did, my books some of which were eaten (guess they smelled like food) and knocked all kinds of things off shelves by simply crashing into them. Guess I need higher shelves or we could get a new gate for the bedroom to block her out. I hate to keep the door shut all the time because then we get no heat in there. That is not acceptable. For a new house, we have way too much trouble heating it. I think we should go back to using my old stove which heated a whole two story house, but David says it is no good but continues to use it to heat his shop. Who knows, maybe he is right.

Sunday, Feb. 15, Stephen's Memorial Hospital is holding a Family Snowshoe hike from 10 to 11 a.m., at Robert's Farm Preserve in Norway. Snowshoes and poles can be borrowed. There is no cost but registration is required. FMI please call 743-1562 ext. 6896. Sounds like fun, do I dare try it?

That is all for this week. Enjoy yet another snowstorm and stay safe and warm.

Newry

By Doug Webster

I don't know what Phil the groundhog from Punxsutawney, Pa. saw, but it sure looks like we are in for a lot more winter! To look on the bright side, I talked to my brother in southern New Hampshire. He said that the last three storms totaled over 50 inches! I want to throw out a big thank you to all the guys who have been plowing for me. It's sure nice to be in a small town where people will lend a hand when needed.

The Select Board met and continued to work on the budget and articles to go into the Town Meeting Warrant. The Code Enforcement Officer continues to work on a new road entrance and parking ordinance. Next week, there will be a Select Board meeting on Feb. 17 at 5 p.m., followed, at 6 p.m., by a public hearing. The hearing is to give the citizens a chance to learn about some proposed changes to the town's ordinances and other items that will appear on the Town Warrant. The Town Office will be closed on Monday, Feb. 16, but there will still be a school withdrawal meeting at 5:30 p.m. Absentee ballots are still available.

As always, send me your news, especially if you do not like mine, dwebster@mega-link.net.

Upton

By Joe Bernier

The Ladies Aid continues to offer Sunday breakfasts. They are ready to serve by 8 a.m. Please come join them for some good food and an opportunity to visit with friends and neighbors.

Carol and Charlie will have their sliding party Sunday, Feb. 22. The fun is scheduled to begin about 12:30 p.m. At the same time, free lunch will be available at the Ladies Aid building. The building will remain open through the afternoon for people to come in and warm up, enjoy a hot beverage and socialize.

Previous to last Saturday, I had not been down Route 26, beyond Bethel, for several weeks. As I drove through Dry Mills Saturday morning I could not refrain from laughing. The snowbanks were two feet higher than the top of my pickup. The driveways were opened barely wide enough to allow a vehicle in or out, and the road was narrower than normal. Now I know where all of the snow landed.

The Upton Planning Board will meet Friday, Feb. 27 at the town office.

Please call 533-2010 or e-mail backstjoe@gmail.com with your news.

Mountain Valley Rec League Basketball

LBI, Ranor Nos. 1 and 2 in MV Rec - With 4 weeks remaining in the regular season, the first two places are now decided. The determination of first place will be dependent on the next head to head match up of Ranor Mechanical and Laid Back Installers, assuming both teams win out. This past week LBI (8-0) won by forfeit over Neptune (0-8). Ranor (8-1) defeated The Matterhorn (4-4), 73-48. The Matterhorn was looking to slow the pace down, and did so for a while. But poor shot selection and turnovers cost them in the end. Ranor's Nate Carson was high man with 21 points followed by Kevin Gallant with 16 and JT Taylor with 11. The Matterhorn's only double digit scorer was Matt Newell with 19 points, although he appeared unstoppable at times but ineffective at others. While Jay (1-7) had a bye, Archie's (5-4) endured to beat Bethel (3-6) 81-77. In what appeared to be a close contest from the start, Archie's actually held a 15 point advantage part way through the second half, but gave up most of it with some irresponsible turnovers. Bethel had a chance to tie several times toward the end of the game, but costly turnovers and poor shot selection was their demise. Archie's Cody St. Germain led his team with 28 points, Cliff Turner had 17, Craig Derouche 16 and Ryan Ames 10. Bethel's Ryan Savage was lead man again with 32 and Kevin Bean assisted with 15. Sunday, Feb. 15, Archie's gets the week off, while Ranor plays Bethel at 10 a.m., The Matterhorn plays Neptune at 11:30 and Jay/LBI finish up at 1 p.m.

Woodstock: From Feb. 7, 1815 to Feb. 7, 2015

Saturday's observance of the 200th anniversary of the Act to Establish the Town of Woodstock featured the reading of historic documents and personal accounts, as well as impromptu personal reminiscences by current residents. As one person would speak, the description would prompt a story from another. Left, Ruth Feeney reads excerpts from letters written by her mother to her aunt in the 1940s.

Next photos: (Left) Jenn Chase reads a poem from the 1915 Centennial celebration. Chase's ancestor, Stephen Chase, served as Woodstock's first town clerk. (Right), Brenda Maxfield, Sandra Stowell Seaver and Gloria McKeen Rogers look over some of the historic materials on display at the Fire Station. In June a more extensive celebration will take place, including a parade and other festivities.

At bottom is the design (front and back) for banners that will hang in the village leading up to and including the celebration.

Prime Time Ski Club news

Sunday River's Go50 Week, which celebrates the "mature" skier the last week of January, is a season highlight for some Prime Time Club members who offer mountain tours to visiting guests each morning during the week and attend the various activities. This past month's Go50 week started out on Monday at North Peak Lodge with cinnamon buns, yogurt, fruit, oatmeal, coffee and tea for well over 100 skiers. It was so crowded members did not get to meet and greet Sunday River's guests during that social, but our Membership Secretary did not let that stop her. She's been actively involved with finding potential new members by being present at 10 AM at Peak Lodge and inviting skiers to join her.

Due to a snowstorm on Tuesday, the Go50 game night was attended by only a few Prime Timers, several of whom managed to win gift cards in a raffle sponsored by Sunday River management. The Ski Museum of Maine's talk featuring the history of the Maine Adaptive Sports and Recreation program, was cancelled. The planned Wednesday Go50 ski race event on Monday Mourning also was cancelled due to "too much snow," which was very disappointing. There were a few members who planned to participate and one who said he would if we got him a spandex suit! Instead, a few members "raced" to the Shipyard Brewery at Barker Lodge for an après-ski beverage. The final Go50 event, the Thursday bourbon-inspired dinner at Sliders, also had a few Prime Timers in attendance, and the feedback indicated they were highly pleased with the menu.

A few club members missed out on Go50 Week activities and the incredible Sunday River snowfall because they were in the French Alps, enjoying a 12-day skiing and sightseeing trip, sponsored by the national 70+ Ski Club. Les Trois Vallées, in the heart of the French Alps, is the largest integrated skiing area in the world with 318 marked ski-slopes, 373 miles of trails, 180 ski lifts, and elevations from 4,300 to 11,000 ft. The valley encompasses four major ski areas, Val Thorens, Les Menuires, Meribel-Mottaret and Courchevel as well as the smaller skiing areas of Saint Martin, La Tania, Orelle and Brides les Bains. Despite a lack of snow until the last two days of skiing and persistent fog and flat light some of the time, Prime Time members said it was incredible to experience the vastness of the interconnected ski areas and to be able to ski from village to village and enjoy a fabulous lunch at quaint restaurants along the way, some only accessible by mountain trails.

However, to paraphrase an old saying: "The snow isn't always whiter on the other side." You don't have to travel to Europe or out West to experience some of the best snow around. Come to Sunday River and find "Your Happy Place." And if you are looking to share your excitement, consider skiing with members of the Prime Time Ski Club. Stop by North Peak Lodge at 10 a.m. weekdays (upper level, right hand side past the bar). Members usually break into small groups of four to eight skiers, based mostly on skiing ability and speed and terrain preference. For Prime Time Ski Club membership information and a schedule of activities check out our web site at www.primetimeskiclub.com.

News from the Oxford County Democrats

The Oxford County Democrats held a Potluck Lunch and Meeting at Crescent Park School in Bethel on Sunday, Jan. 11.

Maine Democratic Party Chair Phil Bartlett of Gorham, and Vice-chair Peggy Schaffer of Vassalboro, were in attendance and led a discussion of the 2014 election and plans for the 2016 cycle.

Business items included election of Colin O'Neill of Oxford to fill a vacancy on the Maine Democratic State Committee and electing officers for 2015-2016. Cathy Newell of Greenwood was elected as Chair, Irene Kuchta of Hanover as Vice-chair, Roy Gedat of Norway as Treasurer, and Jane Chandler of Woodstock as Secretary for the 2015-2016 cycle. Callie Pecunies of Albany Township was elected as the Chair's alternate to the Democratic State Committee.

Plans are in the works for meetings throughout the late winter and spring and for the annual field trip to the Statehouse. Information about the Oxford County Democrats is available on Facebook and on www.oxforddems.org, or by calling County Chair Cathy Newell, 875-2116.

SWOAM: A timber harvest?

The Feb. 12 meeting of the Western Maine Chapter of the Small Woodland Owners Association of Maine will concentrate on all the things a landowner needs to think about before committing to a timber harvest.

Merle Ring, District Forester with the Maine Forest Service, will go over the process. Are you thinking it's time to have some wood cut on your woodlot? Are you doing the work yourself or are you contracting with a logger? Do you know all the things to consider or are you pretty much in the dark? Maybe you've done this before but are thinking you could have done a better job.

As a landowner, Merle will help with what you need to think about before the skidder shows up on your landing, including boundary lines, contracts, insurance, notification to the state, water quality standards, Forest Practices Act standard, using a forester, bid or stumpage sales (or neither), equipment mix, timing of the harvest and many more.

The meeting is free and open to the public and will be held at 7 p.m. at Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School. Signs will be posted. For more information, call Merle at 743-5976 evenings.

Mahoosuc Arts receives grant from the New England Foundation for the Arts

The Mahoosuc Arts Council has been awarded a $2,700 grant from the New England Foundation for the Arts to present the multi-media theatrical production of Icarus by the Boston-based theater company Liars & Believers.

Icarus is a tale of poverty, love, transcendence and oppression presented through live musical theater, dance, masks and puppetry. See Passionate Penny fly through the air. Hear the mellifluous music of Icarus. Watch them try to escape monsters and machinations of all kinds.

The work will be performed for the general public at Hebron Academy on April 6 and at Gould Academy on April 7. Both performances are at 7 p.m. The students of the Telstar Regional Schools will be treated to two in-school performances on April 8. Area home-schoolers are welcome to attend.

Icarus features an original Americana score by Nathan Leigh (Song of Songs) and the fantastical puppetry by Faye Dupras. Conceived and Directed by Jason Slavick, Music and Lyrics by Nathan Leigh, Written by The LAB Ensemble Puppetry Design and Direction by Faye Du-pras, Lighting and Set Design by Aaron Sherkow, Costume Design by Kendra Bell. FMI: www.liarsandbelievers.com.

The funding provided to the council is made possible by the New England States Touring Program of the New England Foundation of the

"DOWELS CAN BE MORE DARN FUN"

John Ferguson of Fort Myers, Florida e-mailed the Citizen photos of his vintage wooden building set called Satellite City, made by Saunders Brothers. He believed it might have been manufactured in Locke's Mills, but research indicated that the set was made by Saunders in the early 1960s, prior to their acquisition of the local mill, probably at their Fryeburg facility.

PET OF THE WEEK:

Meet Bella

Bella will roll over for a little chin scratching when she meets someone she likes. This almost one-year old kitty is a sweet cat that would like to celebrate her first birthday as a beloved, member of the family.

Sometimes the best way to describe a cat is just to say, "This is a nice cat." Niceness does count. Bella is waiting for someone to do something nice and adopt her.

Responsible Pet Care of Oxford Hills is a no-kill, non-profit shelter and adoption center for cats and dogs, and the holding area for stray dogs for 12 towns in Oxford County. Anyone interested in adopting a pet from RPC can visit the shelter at 9 Swallow Road in South Paris Tuesday-Sunday 12-4 p.m. Most of the adoptable pets and the adoption application can be found online on the shelter's website at www.rpc.petfinder.com.

For answers to questions about adopting or fostering a pet, or to make an inquiry about a lost animal, call Responsible Pet Care after noon at 743-8679.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE

WHEREAS, on November 6, 2014, a Judgment of Foreclosure and Order of Sale was entered by the District Court, District Eleven, Division of Northern Oxford, in an action entitled The Summit Condominium Owners Association v. Timeshare Management Services, L.L.C., d/b/a Club Select Resorts, under Docket No. RUM-RE-14-52, for the foreclosure of condominium association fees due from the said Timeshare Management Services, L.L.C. d/b/a Club Select Resorts to The Summit Condominium Owners Association, a copy of said Judgment being duly recorded in the Oxford County Registry of Deeds, and,

WHEREAS, the statutory ninety (90) day redemption period having elapsed without redemption by the said Defendant its successors or assigns, by the date of the proposed sale;

NOW, THEREFORE, by order of and in execution of said Judgment of Foreclosure and Order of Sale, notice is hereby given that there will be sold at public sale at 10:00 a.m. on Monday, March 9, 2015, at the office of John S. Jenness, Jr., Esq., at 23 Market Square, South Paris, Maine, all and singular the premises described in said Judgment, to wit:

Certain real estate located in the Town of Newry, County of Oxford and State of Maine, more particularly described as follows:

Unit No. 314 Time Share Unit Quarter III in Building I of Phase I in The Summit at Sunday River, A Condominium, located in the Town of Newry, County of Oxford and State of Maine, a condominium established by Sunday River Skiway Corporation pursuant to the Maine Condominium Act and by Declaration of Condominium dated December 14, 1992, and recorded in the Oxford County Registry of Deeds, Eastern District, in Book 1965, Page 187 (which Declaration, together with the Exhibits and/or appendices thereto, and any amendments, is herein termed "Declaration" and to which reference is hereby made), which said unit is shown on the floor plans of the building identified above recorded simultaneously with said Declaration in said Registry of Deeds. Reference is also made to survey plan, by Dana C. Douglass, Jr., R.S., likewise recorded simultaneously with said Declaration in said Registry.

Being precisely the same premises conveyed to Club Select Resorts [a "Missouri Domestic Fictitious Registration" wholly owned and operated by Timeshare Management Services, L.L.C.], by Quitclaim Deed of Carl W. Standley, et al., dated June 8, 2012, which is recorded in the Oxford County Registry of Deeds in Book 4972, Page 33, and entitled and subject to all benefits and restrictions as described therein.

TERMS OF SALE: Pursuant to Title 14 M.R.S.A. §6323, the public sale shall be held not less than thirty (30) days nor more than forty-five (45) days after the first date of publication of this Notice. The Association shall sell the premises to the highest bidder at the public sale and deliver a deed of such sale to the purchaser, which deed shall convey the premises free and clear of all interest of the parties-in-interest joined in the action. The Association or any other party-in-interest may bid at the public sale. All bids are to be supported by 10% deposit, except for banks. All deposits are to be made either in cash or by certified check at the time of bidding. Closing on the sale shall occur within thirty (30) days of the date of the sale. All other terms are to be announced at the sale or may be obtained by contacting the Association at its place of business in Newry, Maine, or the undersigned attorney for the Association.
